Our Midnight Edition.

We now print a MIDNIGHT EDITION, to go out by the midnight trains on the Louisville and Memphis railroads, expressly for the benefit of our large and rapidly increasing list of subscribers in the city of Louisville. It will be to press at 11 o'clock, and contain an item of interest that reaches us by telegraph or otherwise up to that moment.

Our Evening Edition.

The most careful observer cannot fail to have noticed that in the publication of the latest news the Evening Telegraph is far ahead of all contemporaries. It not only gives all the telegraphic dispatches up to the very moment of publication, but also items of intelligence by the mails is also immediately collected for its columns.

Yesterday it published several columns of interesting and highly important intelligence of the occurrences at Baltimore, of which the other evening papers made but little more than mention.

Fraternal Feelings of the Cincinnati.

A merchant of this city endeavored to purchase several hundred yards of flannel from Cincinnati. The article was paid for in cash, but the merchant was leaning it was to be used for our Kentucky soldier boys, refused to allow it to be shipped.

The Cincinnati Commercial also says distinctly, Kentuckians can't get arms in that city for love or money.

Military Items.

We learn that the City Guard, an Independent Military Company, composed exclusively of heads of families, was organized Monday evening. The Company propose to arm and equip themselves, at their own expense, and so soon as arms can be procured, will be tendered to the Mayor, for the protection of the City. The officers are: Captain, J. M. Daniel; First Lieutenant, E. M. Stover; Second Lieutenant, Wm. O. Tyler; Third Lieutenant, W. H. Powers; First Sergeant, J. W. Mitchell; Second Sergeant, Geo. E. Moody; Third Sergeant, John Shuler; Fourth Sergeant, Wm. G. Morton; Fifth Sergeant, Geo. E. Patten; First Corporal, C. Q. Armstrong; Second Corporal, Robt. Floyd; Fourth Corporal, Henry Hamilton; Fifth Corporal, W. C. D. Whipple; Secretary, R. J. Menefee; Treasurer, Abram Pitts. Their first drill will take place this evening at 7 o'clock, at their Armory, north side Main street, between Second and Third.

The Louisville Battalion has assumed such formidable proportions that it is necessary to divide it into two battalions, constituting a regiment. The election will take place to-night, when we have no doubt that accomplished gentlemen and gallant officer, Maj. Thos. H. Hunt, will be chosen as commander. The following, we believe, are the companies in this city which will complete the regiment, viz: Citizens Guards, National Blues, Jackson Guards, Washington Rifles, Louisville Life Guards, Ormsby Guards, Buckner Guards, Clay Chasseurs, National Guards, Magoffin Guards. Rev. Dr. Green, of this city, yesterday presented one hundred and four Bibles to Capt. John D. Pope's command.

The Mayor of the City yesterday purchased seven tons of pig lead from a leading merchant, for war purposes.

Capt. Pope's Company meet at Concert Hall to-day at 9 o'clock. The order is imperative, as the Company will depart in a few hours afterwards.

CORNELIUS GUARDS.—You are ordered to meet at Concert Hall at 1 o'clock precisely, this day, to be mustered in the regiment, and arrange for departure. By order of the Captain.

MILITARY DEPARTURE.—Several companies who intend to fight for the cause of the South, leave here to-night. They will do honor to the ancient fame of Kentuckians.

ALLEGED WIFE MURDER.—Lawrence Conley was committed to jail yesterday, suspected of causing the death of his wife by brutal treatment and violence. The woman, who lived near Bridge street, was found dead, and interred in such haste, yesterday, that it led to the belief that she met death at his hands. At the instance of the coroner, who will have the body taken up to-day, Conley was arrested.

He says that he left home early on Monday night, and that when he returned at 11 o'clock, he found some of the neighbors had declared that her脉 were heard in the night. She was addicted to drinking. The parties had three little children, who are made motherless by whisky or violence, or both.

LAURANCE MATTERS.—SHOCKING DEATH.

Our old friend Sam H. Bullen has leased the large house on Jefferson street, between Eighth and Ninth, formerly occupied by the U. S. District Court. Mr. Mitchell, of Bracken county, was convicted of opening letters in violation of the law. He has not yet been sentenced, however.

THE PRESTON GUARDS.—The Preston will be mustered into service this evening at 7 o'clock at Cook's Hall, on Gresham street, between Jackson and Hancock, opposite the Catholic church.

THE NEWCOMB GUARDS.—An independent military camp, numbering now forty-five men, meet to-night, at Cotton's new building on Fifth street, to perfect their organization. Members attend.

THE GERMANS AND IRISH OF NASHVILLE have each organized a fine company, respectively from the Louisville Journal and the residence of Bishops Polk and Elliott, near University Place, Louisiana, were destroyed by fire on the 11th, the houses barely escaping with their lives.

THE young man, son of a preacher, lost his life yesterday in Lagrange, by the accidental discharge of a gun. He was blowing into the muzzle, and by some means it went off, blowing half of his head away, and of course killing him instantly.

THE SALE OF RARE AND BEAUTIFUL ROSES AND OTHER PLANTS will take place this morning, (Wednesday,) at 10 o'clock, at the auction rooms of Messrs. S. G. Henry & Co. They are in fine order, and are from the Woodland Garden Nursery.

THE sale only seems to increase the number of pictures taken at Eldred's, Gresham, April 20, 1861.

Editor's Louisville Courier: In your paper of this morning you state that a meeting "was held for the purpose of organizing men, under Capt. Rousseau, Woodruff, and others, for the purpose of making war on Lincoln in his unbroken state." I hope you will sympathize with the Lincoln administration.

THE regiment of Pennsylvania volunteers that was recently mustered at Philadelphia, armed with small arms, are beginning to turn up in various quarters. A number of them are still missing, and probably are still running.

THE meeting at Kentucky will be mustered into service this evening at 7 o'clock at Cook's Hall, on Gresham street, between Jackson and Hancock, opposite the Catholic church.

Should We Submit Because We are Defeated?

The Northern sympathizers among us, who would have Kentuckians pass under the yoke and become the vassals of Northern tyrants and usurpers, take advantage of the comparatively unarmed and unorganized state of the Kentucky militia, for which they and their friends are alone responsible, and appeal to the fears of our people, assuring them that we are not in a condition to repel the "invasions" which will pour down upon us from the Free States. It was a glorious day when our Southern brethren in resistance to the Northern authorities at Washington.

Little do they know of the courageous, noble spirit, the unshaking courage, the admirable skill of the citizen soldiers which will spring into existence at the call of our authorities.

To little advantage have they read histories, if they think a free people situated as those of Kentucky can be intimidated, or conquered and enslaved, by any number of the half clothed and ill armed millions of despots, who a score of such States as "Ohio, and Indiana, and Illinois" could offer as a sacrifice in such an attempt and such a cause.

Greeces was not organized, for defense when XERES crossed the Bosphorus and approached the Straits of Thermopylae.

LEONIDAS and his three hundred men were volunteers that proffered their services to meet the invader and the world that followed him. They arrested his march and for many days kept his millions at bay.

BUSCULLS was not enough at his command to penetrate fifty miles into the interior of Kentucky. Legions of gallant men will spring up, armed with the "Kentucky rifle," and mountains of the slain invaders will arrest the march, and it may be to protect the retreat, of the minions of inhumanity, should they have the temerity to accept the invitation extended to them by the Submissives among us.

An hundred thousand men, it is said, responded to the call of the Administration. Many of these, we are assured to be, are only on paper. We do not believe they can put that number of men in the field at all. And the greater the number, the more volunteers will be willing to fight against freedom in this war, are the "savage and boisterous" creation—the sons and refuse of society—who only fight for pay, and like all mercenaries, are untrustworthy, and unreliable. They would make bad soldiers at best. And now they are undrilled, inexperienced, and will be inimicible—an incubimble to the army whose numbers and expenses they swell. Opposed to an army of freemen called into service to defend a country that has been precipitated into civil war, those seeking the destruction of the Government, to gratify personal and political malice, will be easily defeated.

In doing so, there is no necessity for confusion, or a resort to mob law, for the people of Kentucky are well informed, and well educated.

THEY FORMED, FED, AND FED, WITHOUT THE BENEFIT OF CLEMENCY.
